SHELTON STATE OPENS FALL CONCERT SERIES

Soprano Jerri Lamar Kantack and mezzo-soprano Glinda Blackshear will perform on the weekly Monday Concert series at Shelton State.

Jerri Lamar Kantack is the new adjunct teacher of voice at Shelton State. She completed her doctorate in vocal performance at the University of Alabama where she also teaches in the community music program. She is organist at First United Methodist Church.

Glinda Blackshear is beginning her ninth year with the Shelton music department where she serves as instructor of vocal and choral music. In addition to directing the music program at the First Methodist Church of Fayette, she is active in Tuscaloosa Community Singers, Civic Chorus, and Summer Show.

ALABAMA AUTHOR TO SPEAK AT SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Alabama author and playwright William Cobb will be in Tuscaloosa on September 30 as a guest lecturer for Shelton State Community College. The event, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the college's Skyland campus auditorium, is sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa, national community college honorary, and will be opened to the public.

Currently writer-in-residence at the University of Montevallo, Cobb will discuss his Pulitzer prize nominated novel, A WALK THROUGH FIRE.

Published by William Morrow & Co. In 1992, A WALK THROUGH FIRE is one of three novels written by Cobb. This novel, which is set in the South, was nominated for the Robert Kennedy Award, the Lillian Smith Award and the Pen-Faulkner Award for fiction.

Cobb has also written a number of short stories and essays that have appeared in a wide variety of magazines and journals. His short story "The Stone Soldier" was named the best story of the year in 1965 by STORY magazine. His other novels are COMING OF THE AGE AT THE Y, THE HERMIT KING and his latest, A SECOND LIFE which will be published in 1994.

Three of Cobb's plays, SUNDAY'S CHILD, A PLAN OF SPRINGS, and EARLY RAINS have all been produced off Broadway in New York. SUNDAY'S CHILD, which starred actress Celeste Holmes in the New York production, has also been produced in two regional productions.

A native of Demopolis, Alabama, Cobb attended Livingston University and Vanderbilt University. He currently lives in Shelby County with his wife and daughter.

SHELTON SELLS FIFTEENTH STREET CAMPUS PROPERTY

An agreement to sell Shelton State Community College's Fifteenth Street Campus has been announced recently by Tom Umphrey, Shelton president. The money from the sale of the property will be used to build Shelton State's new campus that will be located in south Tuscaloosa County.

SHELTON INSTRUCTOR SERVES AS SANCTIONED JUDGE FOR MISS ALABAMA

Dr. Jim Jolly will be serving as one of the official Miss Alabama Pageant sanctioned judges for the Miss Tuscaloosa Pageant on Saturday, October 9. He has judged Miss America Preliminary pageants several times a year for the past eight years in Alabama and Mississippi.

ENROLLMENT UPDATE

Kudos and congratulations to the faculty and staff on the Fredd Campus as well as the college's recruiting staff and others who have been involved with fall registration.

During the last two weeks, the college has held an extended registration period at the Fredd Campus. We are happy to report 113 new students registered at Fredd during this time. This is a 171% increase in enrollment since registration in August. Total enrollment at the Fredd Campus for Fall semester is 169 students.

RICK SHELTON SPEAKS TO ALABAMA INSTRUCTIONAL MEDIA ASSOCIATION RECENTLY

HILL RECEIVES HONOR

J. Michael Hill, a part time history instructor at Shelton State, was recently notified that his paper, "The Rift Within Clan Ian Mor: The Antrim and DunyVeġ MacDonnells, 1590-1603," was selected for the 1992 prize of the Cardinas Symposium on British Studies. One British receiver described it as a "highly original piece of work which dramatically increases our understanding of the three kingdom contest of the nine years war in Ulster."
